Objective: Seeking a position where I can creatively undermine company culture and torment my coworkers.

Skills:

Expert-level coder with skills in Python, C++, JavaScript, and Ruby; efficient at writing perfectly functional yet completely unreadable code

Proficient in devil worship, black magic, and demonic rituals after work hours

Talented at sarcasm, insults, and finding flaws in others' work; helps keep coworker egos in check

Always ready with a morbid or offensive joke to lighten the mood

Highly skilled at annoying office cheerleaders and positive thinkers; balances out unhealthy optimism

Quick-witted and argumentative - fantastic at pointless debates that waste work time

Deeply cynical worldview provides unique perspectives on company policies, values, and ethics

Experience:

Engineer at Pied Piper - Dutifully maintained antiquated compression algorithm to submarine the company from the inside

Satanic Temple Member - Participated in monthly gatherings and rituals; got a cool tattoo

Troll - Anonymous Internet forums, 2009-Present - Started flame wars, harassed strangers, and posted offensive content for fun

Education:

MIT - BS in Computer Science, focus on Pretentious Know-It-All studies

School of Hard Knocks - PhD in Disillusionment
